Re: Compliance Letter of AccessLine Communications Corporation
WC Docket Nos. 05-196

Dear Ms. Dortch:

AccessLine Communications Corporation (ACC), by its undersigned counsel, hereby submits the following Compliance Letter, in accordance with the Commission's June 3, 2005 First Report and Order (the "VoIP 911 Order") and Public Notice, DA 05-2945 (released November 7, 2005), issued in the above-referenced docket. ACC is a provider of interconnected VoIP services to business customers. The service is provided through an existing PBX owned and configured by the customer, using standard telephone handsets. The phones cannot be operated outside of the enterprise to provide a nomadic service. ACC does not provide interconnected VoIP service to residential customers.

In response to the Commission's VoIP 911 Order and public notices, ACC has taken the following actions:

- 1) Notified all customers in writing of limitations in ACC's 911 services, including that E911 service may not be available in certain circumstances.
- 2) Provided warning labels to all customers highlighting such limitations.
- 3) Received signed acknowledgements of the receipt of such 911 limitations from each customer, stating that the subscriber read and understood the limitations. ACC has maintained a record of all such acknowledgements received.
- 4) Confirmed the Registered Location of all customers and implemented a system whereby customers can update their registered location.

ACC has also contracted with Intrado to provide ACC customers a nationwide E911 solution. Based on the most current information provided by Intrado, ACC (through Intrado) will be interconnected, directly or indirectly, to approximately 154 E911 Selective Routers by Nov. 28th, 2005. The attached Major Market Deployment Map and the VoIP Deployment Plan reflects the most current major market deployment schedules provided by Intrado. Note that the Market Deployment Map represents major markets where Intrado has connectivity to at least one selective router, ALI steering and the ability to populate ALI.

As of the date of this letter, ACC cannot provide a 911 service in compliance with the VoIP 911 Order to any of its existing interconnected VoIP customers, as none of these existing customers is located in an area where the Intrado E911 capability is fully deployed. Based on the Intrado deployment schedule, ACC estimates that ACC will be able to provide a 911 service in compliance with the VoIP 911 Order to 100 percent of its existing customers by no later than March 31, 2006. Once the Intrado solution is fully employed in a market, then ACC will be capable of transmitting all 911 calls to the appropriate PSAP utilizing the Selective Router. This is typically accomplished by routing 911 calls through an Emergency Services Gateway (ESGW) which Intrado has interconnected with the Selective Router. The 911 call process is as follows:

- a. ACC sends a data message to Intrado providing the Telephone Number (TN) of the calling party.
- b. Intrado locates the TN in an Intrado internal database corresponding to a pre-registered ACC customer.
- c. Intrado sends a reply message to ACC providing an Emergency Services Query Key (ESQK) and Emergency Services Routing Number (ESRN) for the call.
- d. ACC routes the 911 call to an Intrado "Peering Point" gateway via a dedicated ISDN trunk group, providing the ESRN and ESQK with the call.
- e. Intrado uses the ESRN to determine which Selective Router the call should be routed to, and routes the call to an ESGW connected to that Selective Router, passing along the ESQK.
- f. The Selective Router routes the call to the correct PSAP, and the PSAP queries the ALI database using the ESQK.
- g. The ALI database finds an entry in the ALI steering table corresponding to the ESQK, and then queries the Intrado internal database using the ESQK.
- h. The Intrado internal database finds the customer record corresponding to the ESQK, and replies to the PSAP with the customer's actual Telephone Number (TN) and MSAG-valid address.

Where the Intrado E911 solution has been fully deployed, the transmission of 911 calls includes the callers ANI and MSAG-valid location to all PSAPs capable of receiving and processing such information. Intrado estimates that approximately 93% percent of the population is served by PSAPs operating off of an E911 Selective Router, and are capable of receiving and processing the ALI information Intrado transmits. However, since none of ACC's current interconnected VoIP customers is located in an area where the Intrado E911 solution is fully deployed, as of the date of this letter no ACC subscribers are having ANI and MSAG-valid location information transmitted to PSAPs capable of receiving such information.

For those ACC customers located in areas where the Intrado E911 solution is not yet fully deployed, Intrado is providing a 911 solution that routes calls to the 10-digit "administrative" number of the PSAP that corresponds to the customer's pre-registered location. In certain cases, the customer may choose to maintain a PSTN connection provided by the local phone company for routing of 911 calls. In such cases, the customer configures its PBX to route calls directly to the PSAP (and not to the ACC gateway) through the Selective Router, in compliance with the FCC's rules.

In those areas where Intrado is not interconnected with the Selective Router, ACC will not market or sell interconnected VoIP service to new customers. ACC will, however, continue to provide service to existing customers in the manner noted above; and those customers will be automatically transitioned to Intrado's E911 service as soon as it becomes available in that customer's location.

ACC did not have any interconnected VoIP customers as of the relevant dates in the FCC Order and related public notices, and as such the customer notification, acknowledgement, and Registered Location confirmation process for existing customers was not relevant. However, for all new customers that have been provisioned by ACC as of the date of this letter, ACC has confirmed the Registered Location with all (100%) of new customers either in writing or in electronic form as part of ACC's order fulfillment process. In addition, as required by the FCC, ACC has 1) provided a notice to all new customers describing the limitations of the VoIP 911 service, 2) received acknowledgment of this notice from 100% of these new customers, 3) maintained a record of these acknowledgements, and 4) distributed appropriate VoIP 911 warning labels.

Subscribers are required to notify ACC if they move from their Registered Location. In the case of an ACC subscriber, that would mean the relocation of the customer's PBX (the phones themselves will not work unless they are operated through the PBX).<sup>1</sup> Subscribers may notify ACC of any PBX relocation by contacting ACC customer service via phone, e-mail, or in writing. If a customer provisioned after Nov. 28th later notifies ACC that they are moving to a location where Intrado does not currently support E911, then ACC will not provide service to the customer in the new location.

Please direct any questions concerning this filing to the undersigned.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Glenn S. Richards
